

Partnering Opportunities

Powering Resilience, Innovation, and Partnership through Data and Technology

A global platform in Kenya

Kenya's data, digital, and space ecosystems are powering new approaches to climate resilience, food security, health and inclusive growth.

From 2-5 June 2026, Nairobi will become a global stage for shared missions in Kenya, as the Government of Kenya hosts two complementary events side by side: the Global Data Festival and the Kenya Space Expo & Conference (KSEC).

Together, the joint event provides a shared platform that connects global data and space intelligence communities to showcase how data, AI and space technology can drive a fairer, more resilient future. The event will take place at The Edge in Nairobi and attract 1,500+ delegates from over 90+ countries.

The Global Data Festival and Kenya Space Expo & Conference are brought to you by:

The Office of the Special Envoy on Technology, through the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, serves as the focal point from the Government of Kenya.

Partner with us at the 2026 Festival and Expo & Conference

Thank you for your interest in sponsoring the 2026 Global Data Festival and Kenya Space Expo and Conference. We are committed to designing and delivering an event that meets our shared objective of uniting data, space intelligence and technology for an equitable, sustainable and resilient future.

This four-day event will provide exposure, connections, and skills for emerging leaders and changemakers who represent the positive future we are committed to co-creating. Whether working in climate adaptation, health, agriculture, emerging technologies, or space and earth observations, individuals will be able to add tools to their toolkit, access space for consultation, share best practices and resources, and meet new partners.

We want leading organisations like yours to co-create it with us.
